The Episode of the Dissatisfied Guest

By Gus Mager

COLORADO RULE BARS
UTAH CONTESTANTJameson Will Not Be Asked to Compete in State Athletic Meet.

The rumor that Basil Jameson, the crack distance runner of the University of Utah, will be protested in the coming state athletic meet has caused considerable excitement at the school. Jameson is eligible to compete with any of the Utah schools but cannot live up to the Rocky mountain conference rules.

The university boys are at the disadvantage of having to live up to two sets of rules of eligibility which do not agree. These two sets are known as the Rocky mountain conference rules and Utah intercollegiate rules. According to the Utah rules a man must have completed one semester's work in a school before he can represent that school in athletics against another school. Jameson has been at the university all year, consequently he has done one semester's work and thereby fulfills the requirements of the Utah colleges.

Conference rules, however, say that if a man leaves one conference school and goes to another he must complete one year's work at that school before he can compete in athletics. Jameson went to the Colorado college last year, hence he would be ineligible to compete under the conference rules until next year. It is evident, therefore, that Jameson is all right under the Utah rules and that he should not be barred by a protest from the state meet or the coming dual meet with the Aggies. If the authorities of the Rocky mountain conference should learn that Utah is using a man on the track team who did not fulfill the rules of the conference, steps might be taken to suspend the school from the conference. Therefore since it is not thought that Jameson is absolutely necessary to the success of the track team this year, Jameson will probably be kept out of the meet and prospective trouble with the conference will be avoided.

STAR PITCHER IS ELIGIBLE TO PLAY

The Jordan high school baseball game that was postponed Friday on account of rain will be played during the coming week, but the day has not been decided. The high school league this year has been the poorest since the leagues have been started. None of the teams has played the scheduled games on time and some of them have not been played at all. The high school team has the best claim on the championship, as it has defeated all the teams in the league except the university second team. The high school team is back to study standards now, as most of the boys have made up their work. Treseder, the star pitcher, made up his work last week and will be able to play.

Utah Fuel Plays Today. The Utah fuel baseball team will play the fifth game this morning at 10 o'clock on the Seventh South and Sixth West diamond. Manager Little of the Denver & Rio Grande freight depot team has loaned the coal dealers and his deal was accepted and will be settled Sunday next. The railroaders have a fast lineup.

CONNIE MACK.

INSCRUTABLE MACK HAS ORIGINAL WAYS

McInnes can deliver such goods at first as he showed last season. Baker, Barry, Collins and McInnes form the most perfect fielding quartette imaginable. It is doubtful even if Johnny Evers was ever as great as Collins. Barry is the greatest shortstop of the age—managers will add—at all times. Baker needs no endorsement. And every one of the four can hit like a demon and skirt the sacks like a flash.

After the final game of the world's series in Philadelphia last fall Manager McGraw of the Giants paid a fitting tribute to Connie Mack's infield. "It is the greatest infield I ever saw," he said. "Not even the old Baltimore bunch could show it anything. Collins and Barry are the greatest pair that ever graced the keystone. Why, not once in the whole series were we able to fool those two kids. It made no difference through which side we attempted the hit and run, the right man always held his station to break it up. If we hit at Barry's division Collins always covered. I actually believe this pair is fast enough to wait until the ball is hit to figure out the proper defense. We were beaten by one of the greatest teams of all history and by a team whose infield is one of its main towers of strength."

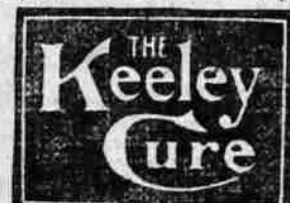

Connie Mack's club has always been a great trouble maker for other teams in the American league. He never before had such a wonderful club as that which he now commands. For the next three or four years his youngsters are bound to improve and the Athletics are going to be right in the thick of baseball fame. When Collins, Barry, Baker and McInnes begin to go, Connie Mack will undoubtedly produce competent successors to them. He has dozens upon dozens of athletes "planted" in the minor leagues for development. Any one of them he can call upon at short notice. This is the leader of the world's champions absolutely fortified against the future.

The Keeley Institute of Salt Lake

The Keeley institute has undoubtedly treated more patients in the past twenty years than any like institution. The parent house is located at Dwight, Illinois, and the Keeley Institute of Salt Lake City is the ONLY KEELEY INSTITUTE IN THE STATE. In fact, it is the only authorized Keeley Institute for Utah, Idaho, Nevada, Wyoming and Arizona. "All others claiming to use Keeley remedies are frauds and imitations."

The "Keeley Cure" does not nauseate a patient and no attempt is made to cure inebriates by creating a disgust for liquor. A treatment depending upon nauseants or emetics for a cure can never be anything but failures, because the patient will soon learn that it is not the liquor which nauseates him, but that he has been made the victim of a trick; the diseased conditions not being relieved, the patient naturally goes back to liquor.

The taking of the "Keeley" treatment involves no pain, sickness or discomfort; improvement begins at once and continues throughout the entire course of treatment. If one needs to take treatment for the liquor or drug addiction investigate the "Keeley" cure.

The Keeley Institute is located at 324 West South Temple street.

WOLGAST AND RIVERS
HAVE UNDERSTANDING

body else, has to say about it, the Wolgast-Rivers double steal has a weird look. By their actions Rivers and Wolgast have yanked the championship out of the open market and are making it their private property. Who can say but that before the Labor day encounter comes along they may agree to meet again on some of the holidays beyond that again and make their little game of freeze-out perennial?

In such case it will be in order for lightweights generally, who don't believe in such close corporations where free-for-all titles are concerned, to hold indignation meetings, appeal to the public and declare the Wolgast-Rivers everlasting championship null and void.

SERIOUSLY, the contract does not look right. Ad and Joe may see no harm in what they are doing—may consider, in fact, that they are not offending against the ethics of the sport in any way, but without intending it, they are casting a slur on their July bout. Since they have had an understanding in regard to a return match it is but natural that suspicion should arise and that fans generally should begin to wonder if there are any other understandings which have not been made public.

Of the two men Wolgast appears in the worse light in this connection. As champion, of course, he is the dictator and it stands to reason the suggestion of a brace of fights came from him. For that matter, it was probably one of the castiron conditions under which he agreed to box Rivers. And if that was the way of it, an analysis of Wolgast's motives is easy to make.

He feels that by agreeing to box as early as July, he may not be giving himself time to recover properly from his operation for appendicitis and he wants to make sure of a chance to redeem himself later if things go wrong on the Fourth.

But this explanation, if it is the right one, will be cold comfort to the lightweights who are compelled to stand idly by until Ad and Joe have finished their series.

"Good as Ever" Says Ad

LOS ANGELES, May 4.—After seven days spent on the mountains around Wheeler Springs, Lightweight Champion Ad Wolgast has returned to the city with a scrubby chin and the conviction that he is in as good physical condition as before his unfortunate hospital experience. "If the operation for appendicitis weakened me any I have been unable to find the soft spot," said the Cadillac boy. "I am perfectly satisfied with myself and all ready to get back to the old ring grind again."

According to Wolgast's present plans, the champion will be kept busy from now on until the Christmas holidays. Monday night he leaves for San Francisco to training for his scheduled round bout with Willie Ritchie Saturday, May 11. He will be at the Seal Rock resort.

After the Ritchie travels to New York, where states he is billed to box a go with Leach Cross.

The champion will then back across the continent by fastest train to get in harness his July 4 brush with Mexican Rivers.

Ad names Mandot and Britton two men he will meet in San Francisco, saying that Britton will give the Labor day date. "In fact may explain why Promoter Coffroth took the loss of the 4 date so cheerfully."
